Wall Street Operations Cast Shadows.

DEAL IN SOUTHWEST

MISSOURI PACIFIC AND M. K. & T. ARE SLATED.

Combination of the Two Roads Now Said to Be in Order—Sumpter Valley Has Ordered Rails For Extension—Agent Appointed For Lund on the U. & P.

New York, April 18.—The Tribune says: The current buying of the gold stocks is thought in Wall street to forebode an important railroad consolidation in the southwest. Rockefeller interests, which control the Missouri, Kansas & Texas road, have bought the Missouri Pacific, and a consolidation of these roads is naturally talked of.

The rumors go even further, including in the consolidation the Texas Pacific and the St. Louis Southwestern, which are already classed as part of the "Missouri Pacific system," although the Missouri Pacific railway, as it is called, does not connect with the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern, and the International & Great Northern, the remaining members of the "Missouri Pacific system."

The Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway system operates lines aggregating 2,211 miles in length, extending from St. Louis, Kansas City and Hannibal, Mo., to Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston, Tex., to the Gulf of Mexico at Galveston, and the union of this road with the Missouri Pacific would bring practically the entire railway field in the southwest under a single management.

The Texas & Pacific railway extends from New Orleans to El Paso, Tex., 1,112 miles, and from Marshall, Va., to Texarkana, Tex., 316 miles. It has outstanding $38,720,000 of stock, of which the Missouri Pacific, on Dec. 31, 1899, owned $6,552,000. It was reported yesterday that the Missouri Pacific would take over the Texas & Pacific on the basis of an exchange of one share of its stock for three shares of Texas & Pacific stock, and the Texas & Pacific would confirm or deny the rumor.

The St. Louis Southwestern railway has a total mileage of 1,338. Its main line is 225 miles in length from Bird's Point, Mo., opposite Cairo, Ill., through Texarkana, Tex., to Gatesville, Tex., and it has eight branch lines. Its stock consists of $10,000,000 common, and $3,000,000 preferred.

A quiet buying of Wabash securities is noted, and it is said in some quarters that the member of the Gould system will pass into the hands of the Vanderbilts.

HARRIMAN IN OMAHA.

Omaha, Neb., April 18.—Last evening General Manager Dickinson, President Burt, E. H. Harriman and Jacob Schiff of the board of directors of the Union Pacific were at Cheyenne, and it was necessary for the party to be here at an early hour this morning. They left Cheyenne at 6 o'clock last evening, and reached Omaha at 5:50 o'clock a. m. On the west end of the line the train was not so good as expected, but from Grand Island to Omaha, 153 miles, the run was made in 12 minutes, making one stop at Schuyler for water. The time for the 516 miles from Cheyenne to Omaha was ten hours and fifty minutes.

New Agent For Lund.

There was a new agent appointed yesterday to take charge of affairs at Lund, on the Utah & Pacific, in the person of Robert Youngblood, who has heretofore held the position of assistant at Nevada. Youngblood succeeds Samuel Stark, resigned, to take a bill at Provo.

Rails For Sumpter Valley.

Twelve carloads of rails passed through this city a couple of days ago en route for Baker City, where they will be utilized on the extension of the Sumpter Valley road, or to be more correct, in repairing the narrow gauge road between Baker City and McEwan, and putting it in condition to accommodate the heavy traffic to Sumpter.

The remainder of the rails for the extension will be shipped the latter part of next month. In the meantime, Joseph A. West, formerly superintendent of the Utah & Pacific, is on his way to Oregon to supervise the construction of the proposed extension.

The Southern Pacific has started the ball rolling in Paris, France, by opening an office in the city capital, where the visitors to the exposition may rather and be cordially received by officials in charge.

The Chicago Times-Herald devotes columns in Monday's issue to the railroad boom in the west and predicts that 15 towns will be affected, and that 20,000 people will settle in those localities as the consequence.

The Duke Statesman is responsible for the statement that two of the trains through to Provo after the additional train is put on next Sunday. The statement is that the fast train will be there by the train on the branch, and the other train, both east and west, is to run back to Nampa after calling at Boise, and continue its journey.

LIVELY MAIN STREET RUNAWAY

FRACTIOUS HORSES BREAK MONUMENT FENCE.

Several Pedestrians Had a Narrow Escape From Serious Injuries—Little Damage Done.

A team attached to a heavy wagon and belonging to John H. Shanfelt of Brighton gave a spectacular performance on upper Main street yesterday, several parties narrowly escaping serious hurts. The outfit had evidently been left untied, and ran from a point near the Johnson-Pratt drug store up the street. The crowd yelled, and in a minute stores were empty and several hundred people were on pins and needles, expecting somebody would be killed.

The team dashed into the fence surrounding the Brigham Young monument on the east side, demolishing a few pickets and throwing the wagon box up in the air, and without a moment's hesitation went on north, overtaking Dr. Higgins in a swell rubber-tired outfit, and missing the same by a narrow margin.

The coolest person on the street was the man sprinkling the monument lawn. When he saw that the team would surely hit the fence, a foot from where he was standing, he stepped around the corner of the statue. When the crash came and was over, he returned and went on sprinkling with a looking twice at the horses, or even at the damaged fence.

The runaway stopped on the corner of North Temple and West Temple streets, where it came in contact with the tree. The wagon was badly damaged.

POLICE PICKUPS.

An old man by the name of Holmes, who repairs sidewalks, complained to Officer Burt last night that H. A. Woodmansee, a younger man, had robbed him of $20, taking it from his pockets. Woodmansee was locked up, but the police are inclined to believe his story, which is to the effect that Holmes was drunk and he took the money from him for safe keeping.

Mike Boyle could not help getting on an abusive drunk yesterday, and Chief Hilton could not help but see him, being a few feet away in citizens' clothes. Mike firmly contended that he had a right above anybody he d-d pleased, and he will take his place alongside Colonel Kelly today on the boulevard.

The city prisoners made a good showing for the day up on the boulevard. They attacked a knoll that crosses the road and made good progress.

WHEELMAN HURTS A BOY.

Ernest, the 4-year-old son of E. Randall, a cook in Young's cafe, was run over by a bicycle yesterday afternoon while playing in front of his father's house, 708 1/2 South Main street. The lad's collar bone was broken, and he has sustained other injuries that will probably confine him to his bed for many weeks. Ernest was playing on the sidewalk when the wheelman came down the street, witnesses say, at a pretty high rate of speed.

The boy saw the wheelman coming and ran for the gate to get out of the way, but it caught him squarely, and both the boy and rider were thrown violently. The rider stopped and picked up the lad, and was very solicitous for his welfare, but it was not thought at the time that Ernest was severely hurt. He was taken to the hospital, and the injuries referred to. It is hoped he is not internally hurt. He was resting easily last evening.

MARSHALL NOT TIRED.

Will Be Held to Await Coming of Butte Officer.

The trial of Edgar Marshall, the supposed Butte murderer, on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon, did not take place before Justice Sommer yesterday, which was the day appointed. It was postponed at the request of the prosecution until Friday at 10 a. m., the obvious intention being to dismiss the case before trial.

Lavell of Butte gets here and identifies Marshall as the murderer before that time. This settles the question as to the prisoner being extradited. It is to the county officials here, however, that the case against him if there is a chance of his being convicted of the greater crime in Montana. It is now believed that the police of Butte will come here to get Governor Smith to sign the requisition papers.

TRIAL OF SNOWDEN

Case Went to the Jury Last Night.

EVENING SESSION HELD

VERDICT MAY BE RETURNED TODAY.

Miss Keeler, Who is the Alleged Victim of the Defendant, Took the Stand Yesterday and Denied That She Had Ever Maintained Illicit Relations With Him.

After two days consumed in the trial of the Snowden adultery case, and a night session last night, Judge Norrell adjourned court at 10 o'clock, the jury having failed to arrive at a verdict. Judge Norrell has to go to Coalville to hold court for three days, which was the reason for his holding a night session. Should the jurors arrive at a decision by this morning they will report to Judge Cherry.

At the night session the time was taken up principally with the arguments of the counsel on either side and the judge's charge to the jury. Snowden was put on the stand for a few minutes and testified that he had never had any conversation with Attorney Rapp of Richmond with reference to his relations with Miss Keeler.

Assistant County Attorney Van Cott opened the arguments to the jury. He said that the case against the defendant seemed so clear that it required but little argument on the part of the prosecution. It had been proved that Snowden was a married man and that Audrey Keeler was a single woman. He had also been shown that Miss Keeler had a child born to her on Jan. 23, and that the defendant had associated with her for a long time, and that he had been born of her child, and both before and after the commencement of this action.

Snowden had once boasted of his illicit relations with Miss Keeler. He confessed to Mr. Rapp that he had been in a compromising position with Miss Keeler in the Constitution block in his home in Richmond, and Miss Keeler had admitted on the stand that she had roomed at the Midway block, and Mrs. Cody had seen her there.

Attorney Lessinger for the defense, said that he would not say the defendant was not the father of Audrey Keeler's child. He considered that the sheriff's records had established the fact of the case, and that adultery had been proved at the time stated in the information against his client. It had not been brought out by evidence that Snowden and Miss Keeler had ever been intimate in Salt Lake City. The fact that a child had been born to Miss Keeler in January did not prove that the defendant had committed adultery with her on Oct. 2.

In direct refutation of this was the positive statement of Audrey that she had never been intimate with the defendant. Mr. Lessinger rose to pieces the testimony of Attorney Rapp, whom he designated as a disreputable to his profession, and said that his testimony was "false as hell."

County Attorney Putnam closed the arguments in a short address to the jury of twelve minutes' duration. He dwelt on the negative, that he had had sunk so low that he had filed a voluntary waiver of appearance at the preliminary trial, not denying the charge against him.

At about eight minutes to 9 o'clock the judge delivered his charge to the jury. The jury retired at five minutes past 9, the counsel waiting the decision until 10 o'clock, but if they had not arrived at a verdict by that time he would adjourn the court. At a few minutes to 10, Judge Norrell sent word to the jurors, but they were still in hot argument and were locked up for the night.

Miss Keeler's testimony on the stand yesterday was in many respects contradictory to that which she gave at the previous trial last month. She admitted, in examination by Putnam, that she still loved the defendant, although when asked if she would marry him if he were set at liberty she replied in the negative. Her long story seemed to be refusing to answer the questions put to her by the attorneys of the state until compelled to do so by the order of the court.

SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

Mill Creek Woman Complains of Her Husband.

Edith E. Best of Mill Creek brought suit yesterday in the Third district court for divorce from her husband, Alfred Best, jr., on the grounds of failure to support. The husband is a musician. The couple were married Nov. 30, 1898, and the complaint alleges that for more than a year past Best has failed to provide for his wife, the common necessities of life. In addition to a decree of divorce, Mrs. Best asks for $5 a month alimony and $100 attorneys' fees. Her attorneys are Ferguson, Cannon and Tanner.

BROTHERS FINISH

Newly Elected Officers Installed Yesterday.

CLOSING DAY'S SESSIONS

MEETING HAS BEEN FULL OF INTEREST.

A. T. McCann Made Grand Master With S. W. Darke Deputy Grand Master and Ephraim Homer Grand Warden—Other Leaders Named.

The closing day's session of the grand lodge, I. O. O. F., occupied all day yesterday, three interesting meetings being held at Odd Fellows' temple. In the evening the officers for the coming year were installed and the convention adjourned sine die.

The greater part of the day was consumed in the discussion and adoption of a new constitution for the grand lodge and the subordinate lodges. The new constitution will simplify the routine work of the lodges considerably, and is held to be a most advantageous advancement. A large amount of other necessary legislation was also transacted, and the members were kept on the alert throughout the day. The day's work is considered to have been the most successful of any meeting of the grand lodge ever held, and the result will be the placing of Odd Fellowship in Utah on even a higher plane than it has occupied in the past.

In the evening the following officers were installed with the impressive ceremonies of the order: A. T. McCann, grand master; S. W. Darke, deputy grand master; Ephraim Homer, grand warden; F. M. Ulmer, grand secretary; Joseph M. Watson, grand treasurer; J. Thomas and W. O. Corbis, grand representatives.

The following officers were appointed: W. B. Bachman, grand marshal; John S. Cooper, conductor; A. A. Sumner, warden; C. H. Roberts, guardian; A. B. Williams, chaplain.

Deputy Grand Masters.

The following district deputy grand masters also received their appointments: The last evening, John S. Cooper, No. 1; H. A. Bancroft, Corinne No. 2; P. A. Cook, Ogden No. 3; W. J. Rosebear, Park City No. 4; Oscar Holten, Brigham No. 5; George Marriott, Sandy No. 6; E. Bowen, Eureka No. 7; George R. Stoney, Provo No. 8; H. W. Music, Nephi No. 9; John E. Betts, Payson No. 10; A. B. Waldemar, Mt. Pleasant No. 11; H. A. Talbot, Monticello No. 12; D. H. Hillman, Vernal No. 13; Thomas S. Osman, Mercur No. 14; E. C. Meriwether, Lehi No. 15; J. C. Smith, Logan No. 16; John C. Caldwell, Coalville No. 17; Gideon Snyder, Richfield No. 18; J. B. Roberts, Robinson No. 19; Robert Menzies, Scofield No. 20; Isaac Wood, Marysville No. 21; Robert Williams, Castlegate No. 22.

The district deputies for the Rebekah branches were appointed as follows: Mrs. Elizabeth B. Foster, Salt Lake; Mrs. Sarah Morley, Eureka; Mrs. E. M. Harris, Park City; Mrs. Clara E. Cook, Ogden; Miss Carrie Suttin, Provo; Mrs. Lizzie Clays, Brigham; Mrs. E. R. Cooper, Nephi; Mrs. E. A. Hosford, Monticello.

One of the attractive features of the day's sessions was the presentation to the grand lodge of a gold watch by the husband of a solid gold jewel of the order by J. J. Thomas, on behalf of the district deputies.

HEARD AND SEEN

IN TIMMONY'S COURT

Notary Joe Publico said he was drunk, and his appearance did not by any means disprove the assertion. The court suggested that he was not quite sober yet. "Where are you from?" "No place. No gotta da home," he said. "Well, de pencil ona da street, maka da live."

"Are your affairs in such shape that you can depart from Zion instantly?" Joe said he would be on the state pike in one hour.

George Murray was about to explain how he got drunk eating gingersnaps, but the court was not a humor to hear the story, and gave George $5 worth of pick and shovel.

C. A. Keelan was charged with petit larceny in walking out of Josie Jay's resort with a potted plant under his arm. He fell into the officer's arms as he reached the sidewalk, and the flower garden attendant's reporter's table was marked exhibit "A."

Keelan is supposed to be Irish. "Yas, yas take 'em," he explained. "No know where Ban ye goin' to road camp. Can't tell you what da hall ay get mean for. It ban not some good to me, anyhow. Can't help it now yas take it of me."

Keelan will tarry ten days.

A hack driver named Turner was fined $25 for assault and battery on one E. H. Smith. Turner didn't remember anything that happened the night before, except being run over by a bicycle, but Smith insisted that the driver was drunk and that he was standing on a street corner, and handed him a bunch of knuckles, "just for fun."

COFFEE ARGUMENT.

New Evidence of the Effect.

A South Dakota man, W. A. Dawley, Sturgis, explains the condition some men get into from coffee drinking. Let it be understood that coffee seems to agree with some people well enough, but when a person finds it does not agree, it is better to leave it off. He says: "I used coffee about twenty years, and quit it September 30, 1898. I had become almost a complete wreck, thin in flesh and emaciated, dyspepsia and indigestion of the worst order. Nerves shattered, no appetite, slept very little, and my blood was so thin that the slightest breeze chilled me through."

Later days gave no relief; I had about given up when I finally concluded to investigate and see if it was really true, as I had read in a number of your state papers that coffee acted like a poison to some people. It was an easy matter to leave off coffee when I took Postum Food Coffee, for the food coffee was just as good as the other, and to my surprise, it set good on my weak stomach.

"I have been buying the Postum through my grocer. Mr. Jas. Meyer, an old fellow, has followed me very carefully. I liked it from the first and have drunk Postum three times a day ever since. Have gained twenty pounds in weight, my appetite is better than ever before, my sleep perfect, dyspepsia is a thing of the past and my nerves are what they should be. I can vouch for the statement that Postum Food Coffee makes red blood and plenty of it. My son, Amos Dawley of this city, has been completely cured of dyspepsia and indigestion by quitting coffee and using Postum Food Coffee. This is given you as an honest testimonial of the priceless value of your (to me) life-saving food drink. You are welcome to use my name if you want." Respectfully,
